Know About Film Trailer

What are film trailers?

A film trailer is an advertisement for a feature film that will be revealed in the future at a cinema.

Why are they made?

- Film trailers are made to advert a upcoming film to the public, so when it hits the theatres they'll go watch it.

How do they work?

- They give a information about the film in a way the public will want to watch it.

Who are they for?

- Film trailers are for everyone because they target different age range, for example PG, 12A,15+ and 18+. This is done because some films contain swearing scenes,violence scenes or sexual scenes which may not be appropriate for children.

Where do we see them?

- We see film trailers on television, on the internet or while at the cinema waiting for a film to play.

When are they released?

- Film trailers have different times of releasing date. This depends on how long the film takes to make.
